LET'S PRAY FOR OUR VETERANS

This year, our Memorial Day Mass will take place at Guardian Angels Cemetery at 8:30 AM with honor guard salute at 8:15 AM. I encourage you to come and pray in thanksgiving for those who have given the ultimate sacrifice for their country and our freedom. Pray for the repose of their souls and for all veterans who often have a difficult adjustment when they return home. Please remind me to continue well beyond Memorial Day to lead our prayer for our veterans and our efforts to do all that we can to help them make an easier transition back to their families and into society. Recent studies reveal that as many as 18% of combat veterans struggle with significant mental health issues upon returning home. Additionally, one study concludes that as many as 30% of returning Army Reserve and Guard members are struggling in the same way four to six months after returning from combat.

When a soldier has gone to war, both soldier and family have been through odysseys that have stretched, challenged, and overwhelmed them and pushed them to the limits of their endurance. In order to go to war and back a soldier travels a road that leads from citizen to soldier to warrior and through a difficult process, back to citizen. The road travels from security to insecurity and back to security, from safety to danger and back to safety, from comfort to discomfort and back to comfort, from order and law to chaos and lawlessness back to law and order, from cooperation to survival and back to cooperation, and from trust through mistrust back to trust.

The road is intense and includes an adjustment on the part of family members as well. Families learn to fill the void left by the soldier and new roles are assumed and sometimes mastered. New rules have taken effect and money has been managed without the soldier's direct input. In combat life is simpler because the military guided and provided and the soldier bonded with a few; in civilian life the soldier will be expected to interact and make decisions with a myriad of networks of people. In addition to moving from simplicity to complexity a combat veteran must face the challenges of overcoming the sense of alienation that comes from having such an intense experience that those who have not experienced it could know. They must come to a sense of peace with themselves, with God, and with others.

While our prayers continue for our veterans there is more that we can do. When the opportunity presents itself, we can welcome them home and affirm what they did for us. This does not mean that we have to support our country's foreign policy. It only means that we acknowledge the sacrifice they made by being the ones willing to do it when their country asked. We can also support them with our patience, having realistic expectations knowing that reintegration takes time. As employers while not ignoring harmful behavior, we can calculate and plan for the additional time needed in their training and for time to check-in and attend to their specific needs. Finally, we can offer our encouragement to our veterans in their reengagement with their families, their work, and their society and offer them opportunities to succeed.

As we celebrate Memorial Day we salute the sacrifice that all of our veterans have made. We remember those who have paid the ultimate price. To all of our veterans we say thank you for the sacrifices you have made and for your service!

Blessings to you all,
Father Tony

A LETTER FROM BOUNTIFUL BASKET

Dear Parishioners of Guardian Angels and Saint Nicholas,

Your generosity makes a real difference. Thank you for your thoughtful gift of $1,354 to Bountiful Basket Food Shelf. Because of you, families in our community have nourishing food, critical resources, and the support they need to navigate challenging times. Together, we can fulfill our mission of, "Nourishing neighbors, inspiring hope, and support families on their road to self-sufficiency."

While we continue to see the demand for our services increase, we also see the profound impact of your kindness every day. Meet Stephanie, a mom of two teenagers who recently visited our food shelf. Stephanie and her husband work hard to support their family, but life took an unexpected turn when she had to leave her job due to illness. Suddenly, the family found themselves trying to make ends meet on a single income. Stephanie shared how overwhelming it felt trying to balance medical bills, groceries, and everyday expenses. Visiting the food shelf twice a month has been a tremendous relief for Stephanie and her family. The support has helped ease the financial burden, allowing them to focus on other pressing needs. The food she receives not only nourishes her family, but also provides a sense of hope during this difficult time.

Stephanie's story reflects the vital role your support plays in helping families in need. Together, we're making a difference, one meal at a time. Thank you for joining us in our mission to nourish, support, and empower our neighbors. At Bountiful Basket, we believe no one should face hardship alone. Thanks to you, we can provide food as well as a place of dignity, connection, and care for those who need it most.

With gratitude,
Patti Sinykin, Executive Director.

OUR PRESCHOOL CLASSROOM IS COMING TO LIFE!

It's really happening—our preschool classroom is being lovingly prepared and thoughtfully set up... just waiting to welcome joyful little learners this fall! From cozy reading corners to hands-on activity shelves, every detail is designed to nurture curiosity, creativity, and community in a faith-filled environment. As you can see in this photo, this space is more than a classroom—it's a home for growing hearts and minds.

Also, construction is in full swing as the Guardian Angels Steps Project begins to take shape. Our new front entry stairs are not just about beautifying our grounds, but rather they are a meaningful investment in the future of our parish and families, made with our new preschool opening this fall firmly in mind. As we prepare to welcome little ones into a space filled with faith, wonder, and joyful learning, projects like this help ensure every step, quite literally, is safe, welcoming, and ready for generations to come. Stay tuned for more updates as we move closer to opening day. Thank you for your continued prayers and support as we build something truly special together.

There's a seat waiting just for your child. Will you be one of our Founding Families who help shape the very first chapter of this beautiful new beginning?

Enrollment is open! Come and take a tour, ask your questions, and see the magic in person! Call us at (952) 227-4000.
